

Local developer donated nearly $1 million to candidates through committees

Jeffrey E. Smith, a developer and Boone County resident, contributed $966,000 to 10 political action committees, which then donated to an array of candidates running for state and local offices between 2011 and 2018. The money came from four of Smith's companies.

Smith's money streamed from four companies ...

... and poured into 10 PACs

These 10 PACs were exclusively funded by Smith's four companies between 2011 and 2018.
